

AUDIENCE COMMENTS ON 'SWEETHEARTS' & 'THE HOOLIGAN'

“For some wonderfully subtle acting head down to the Lantern tonight to see Lloyd Ryan Thomas and Emma Wingrove in W.S.Gilbert's Sweethearts, followed by another fantastic performance from Lloyd as the condemned man in The Hooligan.....Sweethearts is so modern it's astonishing it was written in 1874.” - Peter Chrisp

“I enjoyed these pieces enormously. Beautifully acted and well staged, they are two sparkling gems in a fringe where dull and often embarrassing productions are thick on the ground. Go see for yourself.” - Terry Garoghan

“I thoroughly recommend Brian Mitchell's show of Gilbert's Sweethearts and The Hooligan - in fact I urge you to see it. An utter delight, belly laughs, astute human observation, and stories as pertinent today as they were at the time of writing. A stand out show, superlative performances, a gem all round.” Cara Courage

“@FoundryGroupUK easily two of the best performances we saw at @brightonfringe, hugely entertaining!! V impressed” – milliestonebri1

“@FoundryGroupUK I really enjoyed your @lanterntheatre performance at @brightonfringe” – Jak Stringer

“Saw this yesterday and it was great! Blisteringly good performance by Lloyd Ryan-Thomas in particular.” - Susan Goble
